TORONTO
Fall 1948

Vol. XVI, No. 1

The Fall News Letter, as usual, is late, chiefly because, as is usual in the Fall, we have been busy in the office at "415". Registration in First Year is down this year and it was thought that work as a result would diminish, but so far there has been no difference - on the contrary! But in case you are anxious about the work entailed in sending out the News Letter to approximately 750 graduates of the two schools, let us relieve your minds somewhat by telling you that the University has installed an Addressograph system by which we may have the envelopes addressed to the S.P.H.E. graduates. That will be a help. Right here we wish to express our thanks to Isabel Callan Macdonald, Secretary of the M.E.S. Alumnae, who has been most helpful in addressing envelopes for us on different occasions. Miss van Nostrand cuts the stencils with evident enjoyment and while running them off is somewhat of a burden, whenever we can we waylay someone to help us assemble, staple and fold the finished product. As for writing the letter, for the most part that is fun, just like writing to the different members of the family to bring them up-to-date on all the family doings.

The immediate family at home these days still numbers nearly 250. There are 94 in the Third Year, 86 in the Second and 66 in the First. The big drop is in the ex-service students of First Year, where we have only 7 as compared with 49 last year. Once again there are more women than men, that is in the First Year, 38 of the former, 28 of the latter. If we count one Third Year girl as coming from Quebec because she married in the summer and her husband lives there, we now have at least one student from every province of the Dominion except Prince Edward Island. We also have an occasional student from India, Miss Uma Cuha, a graduate of the University of Calcutta and of the Physical Education College for Women where Irma Moyer Manning and Joan Fawcett Evans once taught. Uma is herself a teacher when she is in India, at the Lady Irwin High School in New Delhi, a private school with registration of 1300.

September Camp was better than ever this year. There were 40 students, 3 student assistants and 7 staff. Dorothy Jackson was in charge as usual. Miss Hillas was there from Columbia University, Mrs. McKellar from Western, Shirley Naylor McCatty of our own staff and Margaret Graham Friedman came back from Rochester for the two weeks. Special guest teacher was Mr. Carl Slader of the American Red Cross who taught canoe sailing. Just to give you a graphic picture of the opening night, we quote from a letter written by Miss Jackson the next day: "Camp rolled in like a song last night, train on time, good weather - wonderful food and no baggage lost. Two P.H.E.'ers arrived by plane - Canoes coming in, launch in full swing and the plane landing just beyond. It was quite 'atmospheric', sun just a crimson bar of light between the dip in the hills."

A REPORT ON THE MARGARET EATON SCHOOL ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION BURSARY FUND:

By Isabel Callan Macdonald

On September first two girls, one from Toronto and one from out of town, received a Margaret Eaton School Alumnae Association Bursary of fifty dollars each.

The gratitude shown by the girls and appreciation shown by the University has been overwhelming. "Thank you for letting me know about the bursary, without it I couldn't go to camp...without this assistance I couldn't go as I've already gone so far into debt in order to take the Physical and Health Education course...I'm very interested in going to Tanamakoon but haven't applied because I've had to work each summer to finance the coming year...I've wanted to go to camp so badly and didn't think I'd ever make it....thank you....thanks again."

From the University, there is a letter from the School Council expressing appreciation of the interest shown by the Alumnae Association in the present school. Mr. C. E. Higginbottom, Secretary to the Board of Governors, writes, "I take much pleasure in conveying to you and to all members of The Margaret Eaton School Alumnae Association the sincere appreciation and gratitude of the Governors for this very generous offer." And as a climax, a letter from the President, Dr. Sidney Smith, in which he writes of "the generosity of you and your colleagues" and concludes: "On behalf of the University and for myself, I accept this splendid gift, the value of which is enhanced by the fact that it has come from a group of loyal graduates."

Such expressions of thanks, I am sure, make each of us who has sent in a donation, and those of us who are planning to this year, doubly glad. They also show what a need there must be and how worthwhile our bursary is.

A letter has been received from Mrs. F. W. Marlow that will interest graduates of both schools. It speaks for itself:

"Years slip away and unless there are a few milestones to mark the course, direction is lost. Thus it came to me, recently, that the following information might have historical interest for the present students and past graduates.

In 1903 Florence Elizabeth Walton F.T.C. M. '01 passed the University of Toronto examination in Gymnastics and Physical Drill. She was the first woman who ever tried it. There was no certificate for women and she had to wait until one was printed and received it in 1906. As the University never post dates a certificate, 1906 was the date thereon.

Recently after much research, the Registrar's office found the 1903 file and has given a Statement with the correct date.

Florence Elizabeth Walton was the first graduate of the School of Expression which became the Margaret Eaton School and later the School of Physical and Health Education, University of Toronto. Therefore to your own School belongs the distinction of having had your first graduate take the first certificate ever granted to a woman for Gymnastics and Physical Drill in the history of the University of Toronto.

This framed statement will be given to the School.

I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Florence Elizabeth Walton Marlow.

A number of Physical and Health Education graduates had wonderful trips this summer. Doreen Pemberton, Ruth Welstead, Sally Fox and Margaret McLeary spent their holidays in Mexico. We asked Doreen to tell us something about their experiences.

"In 20 days we covered 6500 miles. On the way down we passed through Toledo, Ohio; St. Louis, Missouri; San Antonio; Austin and finally Laredo where we crossed the border into Texas 4 days after we had left. The cities like Dallas and Austin are very beautiful and although we kept looking for cowboys, gallon hats and high boots, we saw only beautiful modern stores and smartly fashioned people. Our trip included a trip through the Alamo in San Antonio. This is where the Americans gained the southern part of Texas from the Mexicans. At this point, we began to see many Mexicans, many low buildings, cactus plants and lots of orange trees.

Our first city in Mexico was Monterey. We really felt inadequate when we tried to find hotels, when we had car trouble or when we were trying to find our direction, because of our complete ignorance of Spanish or Mexican. We had a traveller's handbook which had phrases such as "My wife is sick", "I have car trouble" and we created some good laughs because of our pronunciation and twisting of phrases. The climb from Monterey to Mexico City is about 8000 feet in the course of 600 miles and Mexico City is therefore nice and cool. It is a floating city built on a filled-in lake and consequently the buildings are not very tall and every once in a while one side of a building falls a few feet. In this city traffic is terrible. It is law to honk your horn at every corner - you must do this and you can imagine the noise. Policemen can be bribed to save paying fines and after 11 p.m. nobody observes any rules, they even go through lights. It is a city undergoing terrific construction. The old places standing are very Mexican, the new places are beyond anything we have. One hotel took 19 years to build. We went through the lobby and found it utterly extravagant.

We went on past Mexico City towards Acapulco. We passed through tropic country with banana trees, high mountains and breath-taking scenery. The natives here all live in thatch-covered bamboo huts and cook and farm in very primitive style. We could always tell when we were approaching a village by the smell. Gasco, a mountain village between Mexico City and Acapulco is kept in its primitive layout by the government. It still has narrow cobblestone streets, market places, a common washing pool for the whole village, and a gorgeous cathedral, the inside of which is ornamented in gold. Many American and continental artists come here to paint. Acapulco is on the Pacific and is a paradise. Gorgeous turquoise ocean, long beaches and beautiful hotels. Yet there still are the old stores, huts and native air, despite strong American influence. We had a beautiful hotel with a swimming pool equipped with palms and parrots for a very reasonable rate, as it was off season in June.

We were in Mexico 10 days, not nearly long enough, because it is a wonderful country to explore."

It is a very young organization 2 years - and the only one of its type in Canada, although there are several similar organizations in the States. At present there is a director, an office manager, a stenographer and me in the Commission's office. We attempt to coordinate the programs in 6 community centres and keep those centres running effectively. The progress that has been made in the past two years in those communities is rather astounding - the people in the community are the real leaders and organizers and they have done a wonderful job with the help of our director. My own place is still a little unsettled as so far I have been getting acclimatized. I hope soon to be able to help the centres with their program planning, especially in the teen-age groups; also to supervise the girls' athletics and social programs as well as look after the publicity for the Commission. I think I shall have a busy time of it but I have enjoyed my work so far and expect to find it even more enjoyable as I get into it.

Sometime in September a letter came from Sirkka Sterner Onholt-Jensen in Oslo telling us that they were hoping to fly to Montreal in October and would settle there. Then towards the end of the month word came that they had arrived. Sirkka wrote: "Yes, we did get here finally after talking about it a long time. The weather was simply marvellous for flying but one does get a little worn out sitting so long time. Junior however was not bothered with stiff bones. He walked nearly from Oslo to Scotland and from Iceland half a way over the Atlantic....Knowing you like to keep track of all your "lost" children around the various parts of the world, you can for the time being anyway locate the Onholt-Jensens at 4915 Cote St. Catherine Road, Apt. 10, Montreal.

P.S. A mistake! The "approximately 750" to whom we send the News Letters are not all graduates but include the staff and others interested. There are about 700 graduates of the two Schools.

Flash! P.H.E.I. came first in the interfaculty Women's Softball League.
